WOMAN HELD FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH.

Charged with causing the death of her husband, John H. Stricker, 65 years old, by striking him on the head with a bottle at their home on Tuesday night, Mrs. Lena Stricker, 45 years old, known to the authorities as "Polly Mary," is locked up in Baltimore to await the action of the coroner's jury.

William Stricker, the 18-year-old son of the dead man, was held as a witness, having testified that he saw his mother strike her husband as the old man lay on the bed. In his testimony he claimed to have advised her to call for a doctor, but claimed that the woman had replied "Let the dog die here if he's going to die; doctors cost money!" The woman admits having been drunk on Tuesday night, but denies that she struck her husband, and claims that he received the blow by a fall.

When the son was arrested yesterday morning by Sergeant Murphy and Patrolmen Hughes and Roche he told the same story of his father's death as his mother had when she was placed under arrest a few minutes before, that the old man had died in a fit, due to excessive drinking. The police, however, confronted the boy with a bloody shirt, which was found in the bedroom near the dead man, and he broke down.

"I'll tell you all about it, sergeant," he cried. "My father, who is a painter, came home last night about seven o'clock. He had been drinking a little bit, while my mother had been drinking all day. Father had not had much work to do lately, but last night he said he was tired and laid down on the bed as soon as he got in. He had been there but a short while when my mother walked over to the bed and demanded some money. When father told her that he had none she picked up a whisky bottle and hit him on the head twice. Father fell back on the bed and I wanted to run for a doctor, but my mother said 'No, let the dog die.' I was afraid to disobey her, but ran downstairs and called Mike Hamberry, who was in the saloon on the first floor. He came up and asked my mother to send for a doctor, but she said 'No, let the dog die here.' Soon afterwards I ran out and went to the house of a doctor on Fayette street. He had a case and could not come and then I did not know what to do. I went back home and later in the evening a doctor came when I went to the University Hospital. He wouldn't give us a death certificate and went away. Then this morning after I had gone for an undertaker the coroner came and then the police."

Sergeant Murphy, who wrung the confession from the lad, says that Mrs. Stricker became violent when the police entered the rooms yesterday morning, and when one of the officers discovered the bloody shirt she attempted to snatch it from him and destroy it. When asked why she wanted to get rid of the shirt she said it worried her. Stricker was found by the coroner dressed only in a suit of underwear, the same condition in which Hamberry said he left him the night before. To the police when first arrested Mrs. Stricker said she had been drunk the night before and said that she did not know how her husband had hurt his head. After young Stricker had confessed, however, she said that a fall had caused the bruise. When the police made a search for the bottle with which the blow was believed to have been struck, it was found in the other room of the flat, the kitchen. William Stricker identified it at once as the bottle that his mother had used.

Mrs. Stricker has been known to the police for many years. She was asked yesterday what remedies she had given to her husband when she found he was sick. "Epson salts and whisky and vinegar and water," she said. We always gave him those things when he had spells."

A COLOSSAL SWINDLE.

The Moscow police are only on the threshold of their investigation of the fraudulent postage stamp business for which 30 persons were yesterday reported as having been arrested. It is believed that the operations, which consisted in the systematic traffic in canceled stamps, will develop into one of the most colossal swindles of recent times in Russia. The figures already reported of six million stamps cover only the sales at Moscow for three months.

The operations of the swindlers have already been traced back over a year. Two well-known merchants of Moscow are among those arrested. The business was so lucrative that a rival organization recently entered the field at Moscow and began to cut prices, which led to the discovery of the swindle.

The canceled stamps were procured through members of an organization posing as philatelists, were sent to a laboratory in Warsaw for cleansing, and sold through accomplices in the postoffice, or direct to commercial houses by wholesale. The band tried last summer to interest a revolutionary organization by offering a commission on sales, but the offer was refused.

DEAD WOMAN REVIVED.

After having been pronounced dead by the medical examiner as a result of carbolic acid poisoning last night and permission for the removal of her body given, Mrs. Eva Waskiewiski, of New Britain, Ct., was later revived by another physician and is now expected to recover. Mrs. Waskiewiski, who is 43 years old, drank a large quantity of the acid and then summoned her friends and boarders in the house, saying that she wished to say good-by to them, as she was "going on a long journey."

She then lay down on a couch and soon became unconscious. The police were notified, and, taking with them Medical Examiner T. C. Wright, went to the house. Dr. Wright, it is alleged, pronounced the woman dead and gave permission of the removal of the body. Soon afterward, it is said, another physician arrived and after working some time over the woman restored her to consciousness. Her chances for recovery are considered good.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

MAY BE MURDER.

The body of a woman of about 25 was found hanging to a tree in the woods at Evanston, Ill., yesterday, by Thomas Sweeney, a carpenter, about three blocks from where the body of an infant was discovered Tuesday. The baby had been killed by being stabbed in the brain with a hatpin. In the woman's clothing was found a scrap of paper with the name "Mrs. Fredie Goldbego, 519 west Thirteenth street, Chicago."

While everything pointed to the fact that the young woman committed suicide, the police say she may have been murdered. They are working on that theory. A chair and box which had been tipped over were found on the ground under the body, but it is thought the woman would have been unable to reach the tree limb from these.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THUESDAY EVENING. AUG. 20, 1908.

A DISPATCH from Hot Springs says:

Widespread opposition to the reelection of Mr. Cannon as speaker of the House of Representatives is reported from nearly every section of the country by visitors to Mr. Taft. While there is nothing Mr. Taft could possibly do either to stem the rising tide of anti-Cannon feeling or to aid in the movement, his friends are forced to realize that Mr. Cannon is one of the heaviest burdens the republican party is compelled to bear in this campaign. It is apparent to every one that an election which results in placing Taft in the White House and at the same time places Cannon once more in a position of power to work against the policies and principles of government which Taft is pledged to uphold would be an absurdity.

This does not comport with Candidate Sherman's views. He upholds the Cannon methods in the House and will probably adopt them in the Senate should he be elected vice president.

THE better class of colored people in Chicago have taken a very judicious step. It is the organization of a Law and Order League to stamp out lawlessness and crime in the "black belt" of Chicago. A colored minister said. "Our people are judged by the worst element of our race, and unless we rise and condemn and fight against this lawless element we will be rightly judged." "This," says the Philadelphia Record, "shows a better spirit than might be expected under all the circumstances. The duty of civilizing the brutal negroes rests upon the whole community, but primarily upon the decent colored people themselves."

AS THE result of their inspection of restaurants in Washington the inspectors of the Health Department have recommended that warrants be issued for the proprietors of two Chinese cafes, one on Seventh street and the other on Pennsylvania avenue. The inspectors say that in the Pennsylvania avenue establishment an attendant was discovered in the act of bathing in the sink used for washing dishes. It appears that the inspection of Washington eating houses was not begun any too soon.

IN spite of Gov. John A. Johnson's declaration that he would not accept a renominatien, the democratic state convention at Minneapolis, Minn., stampeded yesterday afternoon and nominated him for re-election with a rush, after a remarkable demonstration. Gov. Johnson will accept the nomination and will issue a statement this afternoon. This ensures his re-election and it is more than probable that he will carry the state for Bryan, also.

DIPLOMATIC relations between Persia and Greece, which have been interrupted for 2399 years, are about to be re-established. Persia has appointed an envoy to Athens, the first, we are assured by eminent historical scholars, since Darius ruled in Persia. This is the longest suspension of diplomatic relations on record.

IT HAS been discovered that the impurity of the Chicago milk is due to germs in the water in the vicinity where the cows are kept. If the Chicago dairymen will use water in their milk they should be compelled to obtain a pure supply.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 20.

John T. Twohey, superintendent of streee cleaning for the District of Columbia, will shortly tender his resignation in order to practice law.

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, is in Washington. He will not attend the formal opening of the Ohio campaign. It is said that the senator will appeal to the legislature independently for re-election.

Chairman Mack of the democratic national committee, it is announced, will be in Washington in a few days to consult with local democrats. Mr. Mack's visit will doubtless result in harmonizing the various local factions.

The message to the Navy Department officially announcing the arrival of the Atlantic fleet at Sydney contained no reference to any complications said to have arisen over the proposed parade of the American sailors through the streets of the city. It is assumed here that the Australian authorities will suspend the constitutional provision against the landing of an "armed force," as was done when the fleet visited Auckland, New Zealand.

James W. Johnson, the American consul at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela, has sent to the State Department the complete text of the note written by J. deJ. Paul, the Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs to the government of Holland, breaking off diplomatic relations between the two countries and demanding satisfaction for the attack by the citizens of Wilhelm on the Venezuelan consul at that place. As this note was prepared after President Castro had given the Holland Minister Derus his walking papers, it is regarded here as an effort on the part of Venezuela to anticipate anything that Holland might have to say on the subject. After referring to the reasons for the dismissal of Derus the note declares that the Dutch cruiser "Gelderland" which went to La Guayra to take the minister on board failed to salute the fortresses and gives a description of the indignities visited upon the Venezuelan consul at Wilhelmstad saying that it was evident that the authorities of the island of Curacoo were unable to preserve order or to protect the honored representative of Venezuelan from insult.

Survivors of the Clarke County Cavalry Association held their annual meeting at the home of Col. S. S. Thomas, near Berryville, last Wednesday. The principal speaker was Mr. A. Moore, jr., of Berryville.

It is strongly intimated and suggested in police circles that Mrs. Ivy Hechler, whom the police suspect of complicity in an alleged attempt to kill her husband, Jacob L. Hechler, will turn state's evidence and will tell of a premeditated plot in which Royall L. Ellyson, now in the Richmond jail, was to have been the chief actor.

United States Deputy Marshal Burnett Wednesday night arrested young P. L. Thomas, of Roanoke, charging him with violating the Hepburn law by riding on a railroad pass that he was not entitled to. He was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner White and released in $500 bail. Two other arrests for a similar violation of the Hepburn act were recently made there and the men held for the federal grand jury.

Coroner Taylor has notified the chief of police of Richmond of the increased number of abandoned dead infants brought to his attention within the limits of that city. So greatly has the number increased that Coroner Taylor is constrained to believe in the existence of systematized foul play. His theory is that there are women in Richmond who are engaged in the practice of "baby farming."

Judge William Hodges Mann, of Nottoway, one of the four candidates for the gubernatorial nomination, when asked concerning the statement recently published suggesting that the machine was about to drop him in favor of Harry St. George Tucker, was not disposed to regard the matter as anything of consequence. Judge Mann declares that he is a party man, who supports the nominees of his party, and that he is not the candidate of any man or set of men.

City Treasurer Herman has been summoned to appear before the Court of Appeals on September 14 to testify in the Norfolk poll-tax case, a writ of error having been granted on Judge Martin's decision, which held that the "personal" payment of poll tax, as a condition precedent to voting means the payment of the tax by the voter's own hand at the treasurer's office. The case, which is of far-reaching importance, will be taken up by the Court of Appeals immediately on its convening for the September term.

Visited by the most severe electrical storm that Richmond has seen this summer the city last night suffered from one end to the other; several places were struck by lightning, and there was one fire; windows were smashed, trees were blown down, a wild flurry of excitement was caused in Idlewood Park, produce in the markets was washed away, and a barn in Henrico county was burned to the ground, and all its contents totally destroyed. An excursion train was kept out all night.

In addition to the damage done by the storm of Monday night in The Plains neighborhood, as mentioned yesterday, the hay stacks of John Fishback and several barns were destroyed. Four fires could be seen from The Plains burning at the same time. Much corn was laid flat on the ground and many trees were uprooted. J. S. Hicks, near Kernstown, lost his barn and all its contents. At Frankford, in Clarke county, Frank McCormick's barn was struck and destroyed, while at Whitacre B. Frank Keiter's barn was destroyed by fire from the same cause.

Forest Fires.

Bellingham, Wn., Aug. 20.—Forest fires which threaten to parellel the disaster at Fernie are raging today all along the coast of this state and far up into British Columbia. News was received today from Glacier, a town near here, that an immense timber blaze had surrounded the place. The whole Nooksack Valley, in which the town lies, is ablaze and it is feared that the loss of property and life may be heavy. Help has been asked from Bellingham. Inhabitants are fighting for their lives.

From Victoria, B. C., comes the news that enormous fires are raging in the vicinity of Nanaimo which is a populous mining town on the coast, just east of the northern part of Vancouver Island, and that it is feared the coal mines are likely to be badly damaged if not destroyed. At Bowen Island, also Canadian territory, the inhabitants are also fighting fire and it is feared that some of the fishing and canning settlements along the coast have been cut off and destroyed.

Yosemite, Cal., Aug. 20.—Soldiers and settlers in the Yosemite Valley today are fighting a great forest fire which threatens the giant redwoods. All through the reservation the drouth and the intense heat had caused conflagrations the worse of which are in the Hetchy and Lake Elinor regions.

A party of San Francisco supervisors who went out to inspect a proposed water supply region have been turned back by the flames. They escaped with difficulty. But little news is coming from the sections where the fires are worst as all wires are down.

The body of an unidentified woman was found off Cape Henlopen, Tuesday, by Captain Walter Edwards. It is supposed to be the body of a woman who was drowned about two weeks ago at Cape May. The body is badly decomposed, but has the appearance of a woman about 30 years of age.

The eating of several hard shelled crabs proved fatal to John E. Aughenbaugh, alderman of the Third ward, and one of York's, Pa., most prominent citizens, last night. Mr. Aughenbaugh, before retiring, ate several crabs, which caused acute indigestion, resulting in his death.

Former Senator Roger Quarles Mills, who has been a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for the past two weeks, has improved so rapidly during the past few days that he is able to take short trips daily around the corridors and balconies of the buildings. It is expected that the senator will leave the hospital next week.

The Hotel Merrill, at Dent's Run Pa., was entirely consumed by fire, which was discovered at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The house was full of guests, who awoke to find their escape by stairways cut off, and several of them were almost overcome before rescuers reached them. Some of the guests were compelled to jump from upper windows, but escaped unhurt. The loss is $15,000.

Miss Leona Sullivan and her brother, Clyde, accompanied by Miss Emaline Talbot, are visiting Miss Flossie Riley in Roanoke. While there they will join a party of friends en route to Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs. After spending the remainder of August there they will return by way of Warrenton for a visit and while there will attend the annual horse show.

Ben J. Littlepage, president of the police jury and member of the democratic executive committee in Ouachita parish, La., was killed by his brother, Joe R. Littlepage, member of the school board and a wealthy planter, when they met yesterday near Bosco, La., and settled a difference of long standing with revolvers. Ben Littlepage was instantly killed and his brother is mortally wounded.

Daniel Spangler, a farmer residing near Strinestown, Pa., was prevented from committing suicide by his young son, yesterday. The father was seen by his son dangling from a rope which had been fastened to a rafter in the grannary. Breaking a window to gain entrance to the building, the boy crawled through and cut the rope. Mr. Spangler was unconscious, but it is said he will recover.

W. A. Lewis, who was cashier of the defunct Smithfield, W. Va., bank, has disappeared. When a receiver was appointed, some time ago, for the institution, it was claimed depositors would be paid in full, but now the liabilities are placed at $170,000 and assets at less than $90,000. The receiver charges the missing cashier with overdrafts amounting to $7,000 and loans over $20,000.

While two young men were out trout fishing in Gauley river at Grafton, W. Va., they discovered a quart bottle floating in the water. It contained possibly not what they might have hoped for, but instead, it was a good-sized live trout. Evidently it had made its way into the bottle when but a minnow, for it was found to be 10 1-2 inches long and to weigh one-half pound. The young men are ready to make affidavit.

Insanity of some sort probably will be the defense offered for Capt. Peter C. Hains, jr., when he is put on trial for the murder of William E. Annis. The statement was made yesterday in New York by former Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre after he had been retained as chief counsel for the defense of the captain and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains.

The chief of police at Henderson, N. C., yesterday telegraphed the Portsmouth authorities that Jim Strong, the negro, who shot and killed Policeman Winninger, August 10, when Winninger was arresting him for wife beating, was under arrest at Henderson. The dispatch says the negro was taken from a freight train passing through Henderson, and that his description tallies with that of the slayer of Winninger.

So great was the rain of golden shekels which the week-end visitors scattered about Atlantic City, that prosperous bathhouse proprietors and purveyors of pleasure along the boardwalk, to say nothing of the cashiers of the beach front houses, had to employ suitcases, carefully guarded, to carry their rich harvest to bank. The rush was so tremendous that extra tellers were put on Monday and Tuesday, and even then depositors had to wait in long lines.

A new high explosive of a power beyond anything hitherto used in the German army, was tested near Munich yesterday in the presence of the artillery proving commission from Berlin, representatives of the Bavarian war ministry, the imperial navy, and the fortress and ordnance departments, with what are described as sensational results. Three shells, exploded by electricity, tore Krupp armor plates to pieces. The explosive is the invention of Fritz Gehre.

Because his wife killed herself when he threatened to leave, Edward H. Hacker, yesterday afternoon, stood over her dead body in their apartment in the Hague Court in New York and fired three bullets into his breast. When the police arrived Hacker was dead, lying on the floor with his arms around the body of his wife. The tragedy was the culmination of a series of exciting episodes which kept the apartment house in a state of panic all day. Hacker was forty-one years old, and only recently arrived at the house with his wife, who was ten years his junior. They had been married but a short time.

L. Kissell, manufacturer of automobiles, of Hartford and Wisconsin and a member of the Hartford Plow Company, was shot by John Gerbier, an enraged employe, yesterday morning in the Kissell Company stores.

Following his declared intention of offering immunity to anyone who was forced to kill while defending lives or property against night riders, Governor Willson of Kentucky yesterday granted a pardon to Walter Duncan, convicted of shooting and killing Newt Hazlett at Jacksonville in June, and a pardon to Riley Harrold, indicted as an accessory. Both men are prominent farmers. Hazlett was shot as he was riding along the road alone. He was reputed to be a leader of the night riders.

Police reserves were called to the terminal station at Atlanta, Ga., late yesterday to quell a riot that broke out among the companies of United States regulars en route from Fort Slocum to the Pacific coast. When the local police officers were unable to curb the soldiers a call was made upon Fort McPherson for troops, and Capt. Bankhead, with a company of regulars, responded hurriedly. The men caused terror among the passengers. Before they were overpowered one trooper received a severe stab wound during the excitement.

Another murder in Kent county, Md., came to light yesterday when information was received that Charles H. Grinnell, colored, has been arrested by Constable George, of Rock Hall, and lodged in jail, charged with the murder of Frank Harvey, also colored, at Sharp's wharf, near Rock Hall, on Sunday. The body of Harvey was found floating in the creek near Sharp's wharf. An examination disclosed unmistakable evidence that the man had been killed and thrown into the water. His head was battered and his throat cut. A pool of blood and other marks of a struggle were plainly visible on Sharp's wharf.

THE ANNIS INVESTIGATION.

After being out twenty-two minutes a coroner's jury last night brought in a verdict that William E. Annis, who was killed last Saturday at Bay Side, L. I., came to his death as the result of pistol shot wounds inflicted by Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., U. S. A., aided and abetted by Thornton Jenkins Hains, his brother.

There was a greater crowd than the little court room in the town hall at Flushing, L. I., could hold when the inquest began.

When the jurymen filed into the room and the foreman announced the verdict, there was a demonstration. Major John Powell Hains, who had come from Chicago to stand by his brothers, and who, sitting beside Captain Hains, gripped his brother by the arm and whispered words of encouragement, assuring him that the inquest would have little bearing on his case.

In the excitement, a crowd gathered around Thornton Jenkins Hains, and began to question him as to the tragedy, in which he played such an important part. He was asked if he felt justified in holding a crowd at bay with a revolver while his brother shot down Annis. Before Hains could reply, John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the brothers, rushed to his side and shouted:

"No, no; don't answer that question."

In his efforts to prevent Hains from answering, the lawyer clapped his hands over his client's mouth, and was probably just in time to prevent the prisoner from committing himself.

Only two witnesses were called. They were Charles H. Robert, of Flushing, who testified that he was standing on the club house float when he heard a report of a pistol shot, and saw Captain Hains in a kneeling position, clinging to the drooping body of Annis as he emptied the contents of his revolver into it, and Coroner's Physician Walter G. Frey, who testified that Annis came to his death from the bullet wounds.

In cross-examining Mr. Robert, Lawyer McIntyre asked him if Captain Hains had finished shooting when he tried to go to his aid and was stopped by Thornton Hains, who held a revolver in his face. The witness said that he would have had time to interfere had not Thornton Hains prevented him.

Mr. McIntyre asked him if he had noted the expression in Thornton Hains's eyes at the moment, but before the question could be answered District Attorney Darren objected, and was sustained.

Before going out, one of the jurymen demanded that additional witnesses be called, but Coroner Ambler refused to comply, and ordered the jury to decide upon a verdict. His charge simply cited the lines to which the jurors must confine themselves in considering the case.

There were about forty witnesses in the room, but they were not needed on the stand.

Letter to R Lee Field

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: You know Barnum said people like to be humbugged; but nobody ever gave more for the money than Barnum; and nobody sold more goods.

Paint humbug is different. There are more than 200 paints, all but 8 adulterated, all but one of the right are more or less weak, only one is as strong as paint can be made.

What is wanted of paint is strength, paint strength; nothing else but paint strength.

When you paint your house, bear in mind what a gallon costs and look out for your gallons. The gallon itself $1.75 or a little less; it has to be spread on the building; that costs $2 to $4. The gallon put on is $5.

Strongest paint, least gallons to buy and put-on at $5 a gallon. Look-out for your gallons.

Strongest paint, of course, wears longest. Look-out for your gallons; look-out for nothing but gallons.

Strength is all; paint strength. Least gallons is all. All else is the humbug that Barnum told of but never did—it was worth a quarter to see Joyce Heth and the Woolly Horse, say nothing of Barnum himself, who was half the show.

Yours truly,

F W DEVOE & Co.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Haines Affairs.

New York, Aug. 20.—Capping the statement of John McIntyre, counsel for Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., that the latter's wife made three confessions of her faithlessness, one signed, come the report today that Mrs. Hains is ready for a reconciliation with her husband. If he will consent, it is said, Mrs. Hains will take the stand in his defense and give startling testimony which will prove the justification claimed by the army officer for the shooting of Annis.

As outlined by the prisoner's attorney this justification will not only be found in the alleged wrongs to Mrs. Hains at the hands of Annis, but in the blight and disgrace which threatened to fall on the captain's children through the accusation Annis is said to have induced Mrs. Hains to bring. According to Hains' attorney it was the knowledge of his helplessness to defend himself from the charges of degeneracy and loathsome practices inspired by Annis that drove Captain Haines to the point of frenzy, whereby he become a murderer. It is said that while he was confident that Annis could never get any standing in court with his charges, Captain Hains dreaded the taint of suspicion which would necessarily hang over him if such charges were ever brought.

McIntyre declared that if Mrs. Hains wished to come to her husband's assistance the latter would be glad to accept her services, but that the only thing she could do would be to take the stand and reiterate the statements she is alleged to have made to the Hains family, and more especially those contained in the signed confession.

"It is our full intention to make public at the proper time the full text of Mrs. Hains' confession" said Attorney McIntyre today, "and when it comes it will produce the greatest sensation that has broken into a criminal case in New York in the last 25 years. They say New Yorkers are cold-blooded, but we will see if this document does not prove that people even here realize that there are some things a man must settle for himself. In view of the fact that the confession was signed in the presence of five reputable witnesses, I don't think we will have much trouble in disproving Mrs. Hains' alleged statement that the confession was wrung from her at the point of a revolver while she was drugged.'

"Not only will the written confession be introduced but the witnesses who were present at the previous verbal confessions by Mrs. Hains will tell of her admissions which in themselves furnish sufficient justification in the minds of any red-blooded American of Captain Hains' act.

"All three of these confessions were made before different people."

The story of Mrs. Hains' alleged confession as given out today is a dramatic recital of her loneliness, following her husband's going to the Philippines, of her looking to her husband's friend for companionship and of his betrayal of that trust and of the wife as well.

It is related how the young wife was taught to smoke cigarettes and to drink liquor by her alleged betrayer and how finally, after succumbing to his wiles, she sinned again and again.

It is alleged that an effort will be made to show that as a result of her relations with Annis Mrs. Haines underwent an operation, the expenses of which were borne by Annis. It is also said that when the full statements of the wife are made public a reason will be set forth for the willingness of the old parents of Captain Haines to give up the youngest of the three children, for whose possession Mrs. Hains is now fighting.

Wisthrop, Massachusetts, August 20.—Mrs. Peter C. Hains, jr., is back at the home of her parents on Crest Avenue, closely guarded from interviewers. She left New York on Tuesday with her attorney, Frederick L. Norton, and stayed at Brookline until late last night when she was smuggled into Winthrop. Charles H. Libbey, her father, says that the wife of Annis slayer is broken down by worry, not so much over her husband's fate as by the shock of his accusations and anxiety about her three children of whom she is determined to get possession.

New York, Aug. 20.—District Attorney Darrin today declared that he is not concerned by the insanity defence to be put forward for Captain Hains but that he does think it possible that the realization of what he has done may incline the prisoner to suicide and this he has mentioned to the sheriff, suggesting that special guards be placed to balk any attempt at self-destruction. Dr. Clarence Platt, the jail physician, declares that neither Captain or T. Jenkins Hains show any indication of insanity.

Friends of Mrs. Annis today say there is another man in the case. Speaking of him at the time Captain first suit for divorce was entered Mrs. Hains is reported to have said: "The man named by my husband is one of the wealthiest and best known insurance men in New York. But he is absolutely innocent." The identity of this man is known to a dozen of those connected with the scandal. He is said to have convinced Hains of his innocence and to have thrown the blame on Annis.

Concerning that feature "said C. A. Birchfield, who was with Annis when he was killed, today," everything will come out at the trial.

The Entombed Miners.

Wigan, England, Aug. 20.—Though there is no hope of finding alive any of the fifty men entombed in the wrecked Maypole mine, rescuing parties are working with determination and hope to be of some aid to the men. They can work but a short time before being driven out by the fumes. A number of the rescuers have been overcome and are now in a dangerous condition. A public funeral will be held for the twenty victims of the explosion, whose bodies have been recovered.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, andal though sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Richard Gibson.

American Cardinals.

Rome, Aug. 20.—Convinced of the wisdom of acceding to the demands of the Catholic church in America, Pope Pius X, it is learned today, has finally withdrawn his opposition to the elevation of Archbishop Farley, of the New York Diocese, to the cardinalate, and this honor will be paid the American prelate at the consistory meeting in October.

The changed attitude of the pope was persistently rumored in Rome today. The pope urged the alleged modernistic tendency of the church in America as an argument against another American cardinal, but his Italian advisers are credited with convincing him that such was not the case; that the so-called modernism was merely the increased efforts of the church along practical lines. It is possible that in addition to the elevation of Archbishop Farley, a third cardinal will be given the North American continent.

Quiet at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—Only 800 soldiers remain in Springfield at noon today. All the rest of the four thousand troops guarding this city since last Saturday have departed. The First and Fourth regiments left yesterday. The Second and those companies of the Third regiment and the entire Fifth regiment left this morning.

Last night everything was quiet and business is fast resuming its normal condition. The saloons are still closed, but will be allowed to re-open Saturday.

The Seventh regiment and the few mounted troops here are not likely to be withdrawn until the grand jury has completed its work. The colored population today is returning to its usual occupations.

The Dutch Aroused.

Willemstad, Aug. 20.—It developed today that the residents of the Dutch Island of Aruba engaged in an anti-Venezuela demonstration when a Venezuela coast-guard ship called there several days ago to take away the Venezuelan consul. Only the intervention of the Dutch governor prevented the mob that surrounded the consul's residence from hauling down the Venezuelan flag. It was some time before the mob could be placated, the fact that the consul was ill being partially responsible for its final dispersement. The consul was too ill to be removed and the ship sailed away without him.

Art Treasures Smuggled.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The possible indictment and trial of Mrs. Emila Rockewell Crane Chadbourn, daughter of the president of the Crane Manufacturing Company who is said to have confessed to her part in smuggling art treasures into this country, now rests with U. S. District Attorney Sims who is now on his vacation and will not return for ten days. Relatives of the society woman warmly defended her today and declared their belief in her innocence of intentional wrong doing.

HCSPITAL BENEFIT.

The propitious weather, publicity and excellent service of the electric railway, made Alexandria Day at Luna Park, for the benefit of the Alexandria Hospital, one of the most successful outings ever given from this city. During the afternoon hundreds of children went to the resort and enjoyed the vaudeville show riding of sea-horses and other attractions, all free. At night the railway mangement creditably carried thousands from this city and Washington. At eight o'clock the military company, commanded by Capt. F. S. Staymaker, paraded up King street, embarking at Payne street for the park, where their evolutions in foot movement, and execution in the manual of arms reflected credit upon officers and men. Alexandrians are justly proud of them. The exhibition of the Friendship engine, under the direction of Mr. E. E. Downham, president, was an interesting feature to all.

During the day the committee in charge were ably assisted by Supt. Percy Clift, of the railway, Manager Goodfellow and staff, of the park, and officers Ferguson and Sampson of the police department.

The net proceeds will approximate $700.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

Last night just before eleven o'clock while returning from the Alexandria Day exercises at Luna Park, Mrs. John Hart, about 75 years of age, a resident of the First ward, fell from a train of the W., A. & Mt. Vernon Railway Co., near the corner of King and Royal streets and while painfully hurt her injuries are not serious. During the bustle and commotion of a large crowd which was on this train and having became separated from her friends she started to alight from the train near Pitt and King street, but several citizen seeing her predictment called to the trainmen to lookout for her. It seems that they did not hear the warning, for just before reaching Royal street Mrs. Hart fell from the steps and badly bruished her arm and hand. She was picked up by Mr. R. W. Arnold and with the assistance of Mr. Arthur Davis taken to Dr. Gorman's office where she received medical treatment. She was considerably shaken up by the shock. Her condition was improved this morning.

Whallen, world's greatest high diver; the orginal Aimee, famous Georgia Minstrels, Hugo, the largest snake in captivity; Wolcot's Electric Theatre, Lunette, the flying lady; Jolly Andrew, the fatest baby in the world, and a host of others too numerous to mention, Come early and stay as long as you like and remember you are under the care of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

TROUBLE OVER A BOX.

A wooden box, probably valued at $1, caused a number of mechanics to lose at least three hours each and occupied the time of the police court this morning for at least half an hour. A colored man claimed that a white contractor had taken it from a house of worship on Pitt street where he had it made out of some material used in repairing that edifice. The carpenter who built it positively identified the box as the one he built, while on the other hand a mechanic was there and swore he made it out of some material used in the repair of Gonzaga College, Washington. The controversy was a little puzzling to the judge and he informed the complainant that he could get redress in the courts of this city. He dismissed the charge.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A young man, for disorderly conduct in a lunchroom on King street, was fined $5.

The case of Wm. Long, charged with wife beating, was postponed till tomorrow morning.

Peter Hall and Harry Sims, arrested on complaint of Mrs. Harrington, had their cases continued.

A young man charged with unlawfully having in his possession a lime box, was dismissed.

SCHOONER FLOATED.

The two-masted schooner Quimby, which ran on the piles at the foot of the old canal basin a day ortwo ago, was floated yesterday and carried to Agnew's shipyard and hauled up for repairs. It was found that two of the piles had forced their way through the bottom besides injuring the interior of the vessel.

RELEASED ON BAIL.

Harvey Lunsford, one of the young men connected with the loss of a barrel of whisky at Potomac yards some time ago, through his attorneys, Messrs. Edmund Burke and Howard W. Smith, was brought before Justice Caton and released on bail today in the sum of $1,000. The case will be heard at the next term of court.

RETURNED FROM OUTING.

Mr. Louis Shuman returned last night from the trip he took with the fleet of pleasure boats to the lower river. He reports the crews having a good time and that the yachts race daily. The August, owned by Admiral August Calmas seems to be the fastest boat in the river at that point and has won many races. That Alexandria still maintains supremacy of the Potomac in the matter of fast boats was demonstrated in these races at Colonial Beach, on Monday last, when Admiral Calmes' cruiser, the Augusta, defeated the fast boat "Auto," owned by Mr. York Burgess, of Washington. The Auto made exhibition runs before a tremendous crowd, and it soon became rumored that the Augusta, whose captain was a witness to the Auto's maneuvers, would give her a brush, and then the interest reached white heat. The Augusta went after her, and a run of about six miles, three going and three returning was made, but the Auto was so far out-distanced that she laid up in the creek all day on Tuesday. Admiral Calmes was the recipient of many congratulations, all of which he responded to with his usual, well, you know. The admiral expects to return on Monday next. Several of the party have returned for a day.

STATE FIREMEN.

The town of Harrisonburg is getting in shape to give the firemen a cordial welcome, when next week the twenty-second annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Association will be held in that place.

The committee on invitation has received assurance that companies from the following places will be present—Staunton, Lexington, Woodstock, Strasburg, Shenandoah City, Covington, Clifton Forge, Suffolk, Danville, Charlottesville, Hampton, two from Alexandria, two from Winchester, and three from Newport News. It is expected that twice this number of companies will be on hand, as many have written regarding hotel and railroad rates but as yet have made no definite decision.

Besides the Harrisonburg band, three other bands have been engaged by the committee on arrangements and the following companies will be accompanied by their bands: Hampton, Alexandria, Winchester, Clifton Forge, Newport News, and Woodstock. More than six hundred dollars will be given away in prizes. The convention will open on Wednesday, the 26th, and will close Friday, the 28th.

HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

Mr. A. M. Roberts, of The Plains, Fauquier county, yesterday afternoon went to the Alexandria county jail and positively identified Richard McGuire, Samuel Hines and Charles McCoy, all negroes, as being the men who held him up and robbed him of his gold watch and chain, valued at $40, together with his fountain pen. The robbery took place about three weeks ago near the Union passenger railway station at this city.

Manuel Tavares, a Brazilian, who has a stand at the head of King street, also identified Richard McGuire and Samuel Hines as the men who assaulted and shot him at his place of business June 8.

The three negroes named above, together with two others, were recently arrested by the Alexandria police and turned over to the authorities of Alexandria county.

The cases against all five of the negroes came up before Justice Burrill of the county court house today. The evidence against the accused was positive, some of the stolen articles having been found upon them. They were all sent back to jail to await the action of the next grand jury. The men were positively identified by their victims.

SWIFTER THAN THE BULLET.

It appears that about three weeks ago a saloonkeeper gave James Suple, colored, money with which to buy meat for his family. Suple bought the meat but had it charged to the Saloonkeeper. Officer Henderson at that time captured the darkey but at the corner of Royal and King street he got away from the officer. The same officer caught him last night at a saloon in the northeastern section of the city and grabbed him, but the negro broke away the second time. The officer fired two shots at the fleeing prisoner with no effect. The pistol shots attracted quite a crowd in the neighborhood. His name is Suple and he is a suple negro.

MEN TO BE LAID OFF.

During the past few weeks news from railroad sources has been very encouraging to those employed in that line of work. The papers have contained reports of general improvement all along the line. Now it is reported that not less than 150 men will be relieved of duty at the Potomac yards north of this city the first of September. It is said that three engines and crews will be taken off and the other crews doubled. It is hoped the report is not true.

THE LYTLE CASE.

As heretofore stated in the Gazette a letter was received recently by Chief Goods, of the police force, asking for information about a young man named Lytle. The man in question works at the tinning business for Mr. Charles Newton and married a young girl two years ago in this city. He has been here at least three years. He says he knows the woman in Altoona, but the report he gives about her is not an enviable one. He said he had not seen her for over three years.

As will be seen by the advertisements the motion picture houses will present fine programmes tonight. The weather is pleasant and the price of admission is low and all who wish can spend a very pleasant hour at either house.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The name of Mr. John Leadbeater was inadvertently omitted from the list of officers and directors recently elected to constitute the Firemen's Relief Association organized in pursuance to an act passed by the legislature at its last session. He will handle, as treasurer, all funds turned over to him by the proper state official for the relief of disable firemen while in the discharge of their duty or those directly dependent upon them.

SHOULD BE STOPPED.

Sunday is nearly here again and with it is presumed will come the hilarious negro excursionists who take a trip every Saturday night. It would be a part of wisdom, if it is possible, to have an officer or two near the scene of the landing of the steamer and when the beer bottle throwing commences just land a half dozen in jail. Justice Caton can be relied on to do the rest.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Butherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once.". For sale by W. F. BELIEVES HIM ALIVE.

Mrs. Isabel Wardwell refuses to believe that her husband, a veteran of two wars, who kept her company in the isolation of the leper camp established for them near Tombstone, Ariz., is dead. Wrecked in mind by the horror of the situation in which the dread disease has placed her, she cannot realize that her protector is dead, and Tuesday she penned this note addressed to him:

"Dear Husband: I want you to come and see me. I want to talk to you. This separation is so hard to bear. Come to me. The same old girl."

The hospital physicians sought to convince her that her husband was dead but without effect.

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—Ignorant that the husband who braved leprosy for her sake is dead of cancer, Mrs. Isabelle Wardwell, wife of the late General David D. Wardwell is raving here today in the contagious ward of the county hospital and crying piteously for her life's partner.

Mrs. Wardwell, who is far gone in leprosy escaped mysteriously from an iron cot, to which she was chained in the hospital at Tombstone, Arz., on Tuesday night and in disguise rode in an automobile to Benson where she boarded the train for this place where she believed her dead husband was confined in the Soldiers Home. Guards of the contagious ward of the county hospital who had been notified by the railroad authorities met Mrs. Wardwell on her arrival here and despite her cries and entreaties took her struggling to the isolation quarters at the hospital. What will become of the unfortunate woman has not yet been absolutely settled, but it is probable that she will in a few days be transported to a leper settlement. She is already greatly emaciated by the disease.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 20.—By the end of the first hour of business today the movement had disclosed a resumption of the pressure against prices and all of the shares showed losses approximating a point as compared with yesterday's final prices. The extreme declines on the high figures of the morning were larger and the selling appeared to be general. The market from eleven to noon continued to work downward and new points of weakness developed. Shortly after midday New York Central touched 100 as against 105, yesterday's high price.

The New Watch.

The young man drew forth a fine gold watch.

"Please regulate this," he said.

"A birthday present, eh?" said the watchmaker. "Now, listen, and I'll give you some pointers about how to keep this watch in fine condition.

"Wind it in the morning instead of at night.

"At least once a year have it oiled. Remember that its balance swings 18,000 times a year, all on one little drop of oil. A wheelbarrow wouldn't stand such treatment. It would shriek for lubrication, but the small voice of the watch cannot be heard.

"After mending or cleaning examine your watch's screw heads and frames. If they are scratched the workman has been careless. He is a man to be avoided. Patronize him no more.

"Don't grumble if your mainspring breaks. This accident is due to some unknown condition of the weather. There are mainspring epidemics, like influenza ones. Just now such an epidemic is afoot. I have taken out sixty fractured mainsprings this week."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

He Got It.

He had the air of a man who was particularly well satisfied with himself.

"I tell you," he said, "there's nothing like having sickness in the family to convince a man that he can do a good many things that he never would have dared to attempt before. Now, today I am going to buy a gown for my little girl. Her mother can't get out, you know, and so I am going to do it myself."

On the day following he had the air of a man who was particularly dissatisfied with himself.

"What's the matter?" he was asked.

"Couldn't you get that gown?"

"Couldn't I get it!" he repeated. "Couldn't I get it! Hang it all, the trouble is that I did get it!"

"Something wrong with it?"

"Something! If it was only 'something' I wouldn't mind. My taste is wrong, my judgment is wrong, the color is wrong, the size is wrong and the price is wrong."—Chicago Post.

Seeing Ourselves.

"The man who can pick out the best picture of himself is a rare bird," said a photographer. "Even an author, who is reputedly a poor judge of his own work, exercises vast wisdom in selecting his best book compared with the person who tries to choose his best photograph. Every famous man or woman who has been photographed repeatedly has his favorite picture. Usually it is the worst in the collection. It shows him with an unnatural expression sitting or standing in an unnatural attitude.

"The inability to judge of his best picture must be due to the average man's ignorance as to how he really looks, or perhaps it can be partly attributed to a desire to look other than he does. A stout man will swear that the photograph most nearly like him is one that makes him look thin, a thin man the one that makes him look stout. The solemn man selects the jolliest picture, the jovial man the most cadaverous.

On Again, Off Again.

A young New York artist who is almost as noted for his convivial tendencies as he is for his genius was recently asked by a friend:

"What does your wife think of these spells? I should think she would not submit to them."

"When I have a spree," confessed the intemperate one frankly, "she is just as good to me as any one possibly could be. She takes care of me and nurses me back to decency with a kindness that is superhuman—it is angelic and beyond belief.

"But once I am sober again she begins to nag me to promise her and swear to her that I never, never, never again will drink a drop, and she keeps at me so determinedly and so persistently that—by Jove—she makes me so desperate that I have to go and fill up again so I can forget it."

Her Name.

One needs patience to succeed as a teacher of the young, as this brief dialogue in one of our elementary schools may show:

Scholar—I've left home now, ma'am. I'm living with my auntie.

Teacher—What's her name?

"She's called after me—Fanny."

"Yes, but what's her other name?"

"She has no other."

"But what does the woman next door call her?"

"She doesn't speak to the woman next door."

A Hard Job.

"Didn't you say six months ago that if Miss Tipkins wouldn't marry you you would throw yourself into the deepest part of the sea? Now, Miss Tipkins married some one else three months ago and yet you haven't"—

"Oh, it's easy to talk, but let me tell you it is not such an easy matter to find the deepest part of the sea."

Substitutes.

Doctor—Have you given him the champagne and oysters, as I ordered? Patient's Wife—Well, no, sir, I couldn't afford that, so I got him some ginger beer and whelks instead. Do it matter, sir?—London Telegraph.

Reminders.

Counsel (to witness)—Now, allow me to remind you of what happened to Balaam. Witness—Certainly. But allow me to remind you that it was the ass that warned him.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.—Lowell.

Thought He Had Died.

A prominent member of a German-American society told a story about a German friend of his who was taken ill. For many days the German was close to death, but after a time he showed improvement in condition. The doctor told the German's wife that her husband might have anything to eat that he liked.

The German expressed a desire for limburger cheese, and the wife, being a generous woman and pleased at the improvement and in order that her husband might have a nibble at any time he had a taste for it, put some cheese in every room in the house. It is easy to imagine the aroma.

The next morning the doctor called at the house, and as soon as he opened the door he asked:

"When did he die?"—Hartford Post.

How It Works Out.

"I never tell funny stories in my speeches," remarked Senator Sorghum.

"The audience always enjoys them."

"Yes. A man hears you tell a funny story, and he thinks it is so good he tries to remember it. He regards you as a first rate fellow and feels thankful to you for giving him a new one. Then he tells it to the first friend he meets, and as he isn't a good story teller the friend doesn't laugh. Then he tries it on the blase hotel clerk and the stolid drug store man and several others, and by the time he gets home he concludes you have passed him a gold brick. He not only refuses to vote for you, but tells all his friends he doesn't think it's dignified to keep in office a man who tells funny stories."—Philadelphia Press.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes, says Martin Boyd of Henriett, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton and Co., and Richard Gibson.

Spelled In Full.

"We had an editor in chief on our paper years ago who was a stickler for no abbreviations," said a veteran newspaper man. "He didn't believe in abbreviating anything but the word mister. The names of states had to be spelled out. One time one of the boys wrote a news story which contained this clause: 'And Mozart's mass was played.' The proofreader who got the story had been under the exacting direction of that editor for years, too many years to allow any proper name to get by him without being spelled out, so when he came to this 'mass' he 'rung' the word, and it came out 'Mozart's Massachusetts.'"—Omaha Bee.

Radical.

"I hear that your new school superintendent is rather radical."

"He is that," responded Farmer Haw. "He's cut out the higher headwork and the perforated tattling, and he's advising teachers to handle the children according to the rules of common sense. Oh, yes! Our new superintendent is radical, all right."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ambiguous.

Parishioner (a little worse for liquor)—I hearsh you preash las' night.

New Minister—You didn't hear much, I fancy.

"Thaz what I thought myself."—London Pick-Me-Up.

Inquisitive.

"One half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives," observed the moralizer.

"How provoking!" exclaimed Mrs. Gossyp.—Lippincott's.

Mind no business but your own.—Dr. Johnson.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.
